

Allied Member Benefits

Membership in Medtech Canada makes good business sense.

JOIN US

Exclusive Benefits

- Access and engagement with a diverse membership that includes small companies, multi-nationals, manufacturers, distributors, other medtech companies and stakeholders in the ecosystem
- Company logo, description and link to website featured in the Allied Member Directory on website
- Allied Members featured on the main page of website
- Significant discounts on Medtech Canada educational seminars and conferences
- Special Allied Member discount for annual conferences sponsorship packages
- Exclusive Member Savings Program
- Weekly e-Pulse bulletins containing news and information on key industry issues, stakeholders, advocacy and other industry information
- Info-Alerts highlighting significant issues or initiatives impacting the medtech sector
- Consultation with knowledgeable and experienced professional staff on a wide range of industry issues
- Participation, by invitation only, with Medtech Canada committees that are working together on industry relevant issues

Allied Members

Applies to consultants, associations, syndicates or institutions that provide goods and services to the medical device industry. Allied members receive most of the same benefits as full members excluding voting privileges and eligibility to sit on the Board of Directors. Employees of such members may attend committee meetings by invitation only. Allied members pay an annual flat fee.

