

Medtech Canada is pleased to partner with Mercer on the Mercer Life Sciences Survey. The survey delivers total direct compensation market data for jobs from entry-level to executive level including cross-industry jobs present in most organizations as well as unparalleled coverage for highly specialized scientific and technical jobs. The Life Sciences survey comprises companies operating in the research, development and manufacturing of medical devices, pharmaceuticals, biotechnology, based food and medicines, biomedical technologies, nutraceuticals, cosmeceuticals, food processing, and other products that improve the lives of organisms.

Mercer compensation surveys will open for participation on March 4, 2024. For those that have participated in the past, watch your inbox for your unique link from Mercer to access Mercer Data Connector, the online platform you will use to submit your data. New survey participants can use this link.
